

Student Assistant position available at the Assistant Professorship for Sustainability Management (Prof. Dr. Carolin Waldner) at ESCP Business School, Campus Berlin, from 01.05.2024 or later:

Student Assistant (m/f/d)

10 working hours per week

The position is temporary with a duration of 6 months (with possible extension).

The Assistant Professorship for Sustainability Management has a teaching focus on sustainability topics in organizations (e.g., social entrepreneurship, sustainable leadership). The research focus lies on social and sustainable entrepreneurship by studying for example how social entrepreneurs deal with the inherent organizational tensions that arise from multiple organizational goals. Our research is mostly empirical with a focus on qualitative data analysis (interviews, observations and ethnographies).

We are looking for a self-motivated, highly active and productive student, who is eager to gain experience in research and teaching activities at one of the leading European business schools.

Tasks

Your main task will be to support the research activities at the professorship, with a particular focus on a research project about 'Social Innovation in Nonprofit Organizations in Eastern Europe'. You will be helping with reviewing and synthesizing research articles and academic studies on social innovation as well as with conducting and analyzing interviews with nonprofit managers and social entrepreneurs. Data collection for your own master thesis is possible.

Requirements

- Master's student during the entire period of work contract.
- Very good written and spoken English skills.
- General interest in the field of social innovation in nonprofit organizations.
- General interest in qualitative data collection and analysis (previous experience is a plus).
- Team player, reliable, responsible, showing initiative, and self-motivating.
